Raider Defense Stifles No. 5 Cougars, 31-0

(Ashland, Sept. 9, 2000) — Thanks to Southern Oregon University's swarming defense, the marquee NAIA showdown between the 12th-ranked Raiders and fifth-ranked Azusa Pacific University in Ashland this afternoon wasn't much of a contest.

The Raiders opened the season with a 31-0 whitewashing of the Cougars, limiting the 1998 national champions and 1999 semifinalists to 59 net yards, including minus-nine yards in the second half. The victory was Southern's stingiest defensive effort in over 10 years and yielded the school's sixth consecutive win at Raider Stadium dating back to 1998.

"Our defense is an experienced, close-knit group," fifth-year Raider coach Jeff Olson said. "They played with the mindset of making big plays, attempting to score on defense and sacking the quarterback. They look forward to being on the field."

A 13-yard touchdown pass by senior quarterback Dan Walters to tight end Adam Clinton midway through the first quarter was the lone score of the first half, but the Raider defense helped break open the close game in the third quarter by staking the offense to excellent field position.

A fumble recovery by Raider senior linebacker Nels Hage at the APU 14 led to a 26-yard field goal by Don Guy three minutes into the period, and just over a minute later, sophomore linebacker Nick Daniken returned an interception seven yards to the Cougar 1. The Raiders upped the lead to 17-0 on the next play, a TD plunge by freshman tailback Dusty McGrorty.

A seven-yard Walters-to-Danny Negra touchdown pass play erased any Cougar comeback hopes early in the fourth quarter, and sophomore back-up quarterback Elijah Jordan threw a eight-yard scoring pass to reserve tight end Nate VanderKley with nine minutes remaining to cap the scoring.

The Raider defense finished with five sacks, 11 tackles for losses and two interceptions.

Spurred by five offensive linemen making their first collegiate starts in a Raider uniform, SOU amassed 243 net yards, including 186 through the air. Walters, who completed his first six passes, accounted for 139 passing yards on a 15-for-27 effort.

"The offensive line had a good effort against a team with eight returning starters on defense," Olson said, "and they will improve each week."

SOU Beats Azusa — 2

Azusa, which was also ranked No. 5 nationally when it suffered a 42-31 loss to SOU in Los Angeles last season, completed only nine of 26 passes for 45 yards, while the ground game accounted for only 14. Cougar sophomore quarterback Luke Winslow went 7-for-22 for 46 yards and was sacked four times before being pulled late in the game.

SOU, which recorded a shutout for the second time over the past six games, hits the road for its next three games starting next week at Linfield College in McMinnville, a 2:30 kickoff.
